COMMEMORATIVES UNCIRCULATED

Commemoratives have started to advance again and interest in this historical series is now increasing. We believe complete sets will bring close to $1,000 in the not too distant future. Remember, there cannot be over 2,003 sets and when the amount lost by fire, flood, etc., is taken into consideration, there probably are not more than 1700 or 1800 sets left. At today's low prices on commemoratives, we believe they will prove to be a good investment.

GOLD DOLLARS

The demand for gold dollars has been steadily increasing so that today it is rather difficult to buy choice specimens of the common dates for less than $10. Many have been made into jewelry, therefore the number minted does not reflect the true scarcity. Price rises, while not as pronounced as in the larger pieces, have been steady. They should be a good investment for the long pull.

$10 GOLD

We have a standing bid of $30 for very fine to extremely fine eagles and $32 for uncirculated ones. This collector believes as we do, that choice specimens of the more common eagles will bring $50 within the near future. His bid last month was $29 and $31.50. With the constantly advancing gold market, no doubt he will raise his bid again in the next month or two. Collectors having gold coins for sale may take advantage of the above standing bid by entering their coins in our auctions at a commission of only 10 per cent.

$20 GOLD

We have a standing bid of $62.50 for very fine to extremely fine double eagles and $66.50 for uncirculated. This same collector's bid was $60 and $65 last month. This series has been advancing almost week to week. After the last few sales we received several letters from bidders saying that they were sorry that they did not bid a little more for the coins they really wanted. Now these same coins in a number of instances bring up to 25 per cent more than they did just three or four months ago. For those collectors who have stopped buying at today's "high prices" may we suggest their entering their collections in our auctions in order to take advantage of today's prices. The commission on gold is 10 per cent. If your collection brings a total of $1,000 or more, regardless of its makeup, our charge is only 10 per cent.

The Liberty Head and the Arabic date St. Gaudens in low relief was also struck the same year which accounts for the low mintage (11,250) of this popular coin. Gems now bring $175 and we predict that with the continued steady demand, they will bring $200 by the end of the year. Don't wait too long to complete your type set.
- 1969 1907 ARABIC DATE. Uncirculated but the knee and breast of Liberty are slightly flat. Brings $125 but in our opinion a very much underpriced coin in point of rarity. First year of type.

MARKET COMMENTS

With inflation becoming a reality, more and more collectors are turning to coins as an investment and hedge against inflation. This has been reflected in the hobby with rapidly rising prices, especially gold. Large gold pieces, that is double eagles and eagles seem to be most in demand at present. We have had three new collectors tell us within the past month that they intend completing a set of double eagles. There are still many "sleepers" in the St. Gaudens series from 1907-1932. The latest to develop is the 1913-S. We sold an uncirculated specimen for $250 not so long ago and have been trying since to replace it at $200 but no luck. Maybe one of the readers of this column will sell us an uncirculated one for $210?

The latest to develop in rolls is the 1942-D nickel. We have been keeping an eye on this coin for the last few months and believe it is scarcer than the 1939-D nickel and is second in scarcity only to the 1939-S nickel in the Jefferson series. We had a few rolls of the 1942-D and advertised them at $40. They were snapped up in a hurry and we haven't been able to replace them since. Will someone help us out by selling us some? The 1942-S cent seems to be still advancing but by gradual degrees. The 1943-S cent is the next roll to watch. From the present supply and demand we believe this coin is due for a sharp rise in the immediate future. Our buying price is $1.50 per roll but so far the demand still exceeds our supply.

Proof nickels still seem to be in good demand with attention being centered on the rarities. The 1871 cataloging at $60 generally brings $80 to $85, the 1875 cataloging at $25 generally brings $35, the same on the 1878 and 1885, and last the 1877 which catalogs $70 and brings over $100. We still are trying to buy some at $75 but none seem to be available.

One of our good friends and customers sometime ago asked us if there was some bit of general advice we could give him in buying coins. Our answer was, "Buy coins that sell the highest over catalog in preference to those that bring catalog or less." Now after five years let us examine the results obtained by following our advice.

In 1941 when coins could still be bought at a discount from the catalog for the majority, this collector paid $12.50 for the 1871 proof nickel which cataloged $10 and $25 for the 1877 which cataloged $20. Several of his collector friends said he was crazy for paying over catalog and that they felt sure they could obtain the coins below catalog. Now that these two coins have advanced over 400 per cent during the last five years, our friend has these coins while the "catalog discount" collectors are still trying to obtain them. A current example is the 1930-S $10 which catalogs $45 and which we sold for $450 in late May. We offered it to one collector who had been searching for this coin for years and he refused it saying the price was too high. Very soon after we sold the coin and then received several more orders for it. Last month we offered $350 for a specimen. This month we raise our offer to $400 for an uncirculated one. Wouldn't someone like to sell us this coin at nine times catalog? We believe this coin is a future $1,000 rarity and are willing to back our opinions with money.

We repeat, "Watch the late half eagles, eagles and double eagles from 1907-1933 for sleepers." Prices of these, in our opinion, are still in their infancy.

THE CATALOGERS.
